Risk Assessment - Slips, Trips and Falls: Step stalls

At exhibitions the exhibits are of varying heights with some too high for smaller adults and children to see properly. To solve this problem we have step stools which have been selected for the following reasons:

- 1 One piece design so there is no issue of incorrect assembly and use.
- 2 Designed for adult use so there is no risk of collapse under the users weight. They have a max weight of 150kg.
- 3 They are a single step high giving the required view of the exhibits but not creating an excessive fall risk. Standing on chairs to see exhibits should be prevented.
- 4 Users of step stalls should be reminded of their responsibility to use them correctly and children should be supervised at all times.
